

KELLEY #1 CITY COUNCIL

BECAUSE NEIGHBORHOODS COUNT!

“Working with neighbors, CRAIG KELLEY helped obtain hundreds of thousands of dollars to preserve the Alewife floodplain, monitor environmental cleanup at the W.R. Grace site, and promote affordable-housing development throughout Cambridge. He led the successful effort to keep the North Mass. Ave. safety median, pushed for safe North Cambridge railroad crossings, and has helped many neighborhood groups organize to challenge out-of-scale development. Craig’s persistence, integrity, and leadership will serve his constituents well.”

Warren Tolman, former State Senator for Cambridge and 2002 Democratic candidate for Governor

“CRAIG KELLEY is down-to-earth, committed, and energetic. His track record with his community, his diligent work on environmental issues, and his support of other Cambridge neighborhoods make Craig a perfect candidate for City Council. I urge all my Cambridge friends to vote #1 for CRAIG KELLEY.”

Cob Carlson, co-author of the Riverside Downzoning Petition

“Craig’s history of advocacy in many areas critical to Cambridge is both wide and deep. He has been a leading voice for parents in this tumultuous time for the Cambridge Public Schools. He has demanded accountability, not just rhetoric, from the people and institutions to whom we entrust our children.”

Philip Higonnet, East Cambridge Amigos Parent

“Craig owes nothing to big developers, universities, or chain stores. He’ll serve the people of Cambridge! His honesty, sincerity, and selfless commitment to the betterment of the City as Chair of the North Cambridge Stabilization Committee make him the first person I turn to when confronted with troubling neighborhood issues.”

Ann Collette, Porter Square neighborhood advocate

CRAIG KELLEY, a longtime civic leader and environmentalist, lives in North Cambridge with his wife and two young sons. He is a licensed attorney, a published author, and an ex-Marine. After the Marine Corps, Craig went to work for Greenpeace, and he now works as an environmental consultant. Craig serves on the North Cambridge Stabilization Committee and on the Advisory Council of the Maria L. Baldwin Public School, which his older son attends. He is also a member of the regional executive committee of the Sierra Club.
